WPL NOTES JULY 2017

Library to discontinue its downloadable music service Freegal

Effective June 30, 2017, the Waterloo Public Library will end its relationship with Freegal downloadable music service. "It's never an easy decision to discontinue a service we offer our patrons, but the usage numbers for Freegal could simply not justify our continued investment in this product," states Steven Nielsen, the library's executive director.

"While we are losing streaming and downloadable music," Nielsen continues, "the library still has over five thousand music CD titles available for patrons to check out."
