Next Review: 4/13/2026

This policy sets the guidelines for applying for a library card and defines cardholder responsibilities, borrowing procedures, the suspension of privileges, and fees.

Applying for a library card

Full access Waterloo Public Library cards will be issued to applicants who provide a government, employment, or school-issued photo ID and proof of current Iowa address, such as a piece of mail. New full access cardholders will have a three-month introductory probationary period with a limit of five items at one time. This limit does not apply to the library's digital collections.

Limited access Waterloo Public Library cards will be issued to applicants who are unable to provide a government, employment, or school-issued photo ID and/or current Iowa address. Borrowing privileges for these cards are limited to three items at one time. Hotspots, Library of Things items, and interlibrary loans cannot be borrowed with a limited access card. Limited access cards can be converted to a full access card once photo ID and proof of current Iowa address are provided.

Children 5th grade and below must have a parental or legal guardian signature to obtain a full access borrower's card. Limited access borrower's cards may be issued to children 5th grade and below without a parental or legal guardian signature.

Educator cards with extended checkout period privileges are available to teachers, home school educators, and daycare and preschool providers in Black Hawk County. Inquire at the Youth Services desk for more information.

Organizational cards with extended checkout period privileges are available to places such as senior living centers, assisted living facilities, or other transitional living agencies. Some institutions may qualify for delivery service through the Library's Third Age Project. Delivery service is subject to staff availability and is not guaranteed. Inquire with the Library's Third Age Coordinator for more information.

Homebound cards with extended checkout privileges are available to patrons who are unable to come into the Library on a temporary or permanent basis. Homebound delivery is available to patrons who reside within the city limits of Waterloo and have signed a Homebound Service Agreement. Materials eligible for delivery through this service are limited to books and books on CD. Homebound delivery is subject to staff availability and is not guaranteed. Inquire with the Library's Third Age Coordinator for more information.

Additional card types may be issued at the discretion of the Library.

The Library will issue library cards in compliance with Open Access rules for statewide reciprocal borrowing.

Cardholder Responsibilities

By applying for a library card, patrons become responsible for their card and agree to abide by all regulations of the Library. They agree to report a lost card immediately. The Library charges a $2.00 fee for a replacement library card in the first three months of issue. Patrons agree to fully compensate the Library for any lost or damaged items checked out on their library card.

Library cards expire periodically, depending on the type of access, to ensure the Library has the most up to date contact information. Cards can be renewed in person, over the telephone, or via email.
